Dear Shunji,

Quite often when someone dies unexpectedly he or she leaves behind many people who hold within themselves unspoken thoughts. So many wish they would have said "this" or "that" while the person was alive.

When you left us on September 20, Shunji, you left many of us with a feeling of frustration—frustrated for not having said to you, while you were alive, the many things you should have heard. So, with this letter, we offer a few humble words of thanksgiving for what you were.

First, thank you for being you. Whether we knew you for a moment or most of a lifetime, you influenced us. Because of you and your presence we feel we are better persons. To know you was to love you and through you to love others.

Thank you also for caring. You never were out of time for any of us. You listened to our trials and tribulations and you rejoiced in our celebrations. What concerned us at a given moment also concerned you. As the song says, "People who need people are the loneliest people in the world." You helped us conquer loneliness.

Thank you also for giving. You gave of your many talents. The activity program at Homestead is a tribute to you. The artwork for calendars, announcements, invitations, etc. bear your unmistakeable imprint. We will miss all those little characters just as we will miss you.

Although you have gone, there remains a family, not only Marilyn and the children, but also the family that is Homestead. We were part of your family and as part of your family we mourn your passing. During your lifetime you did not forget us; we shall not forget you.

We could go on and on because the more we think of you the more we realize how you loved us and how you served us. Life hurts without you, but it must go on; that is the only way you would want it.

So, Shunji, we dedicate the book that encases this letter to you. The yearbook always had a special place in your heart. We hope our efforts are worthy of you.

You loved us, Shunji, and we loved you. Good-bye.
Your Homestead Family

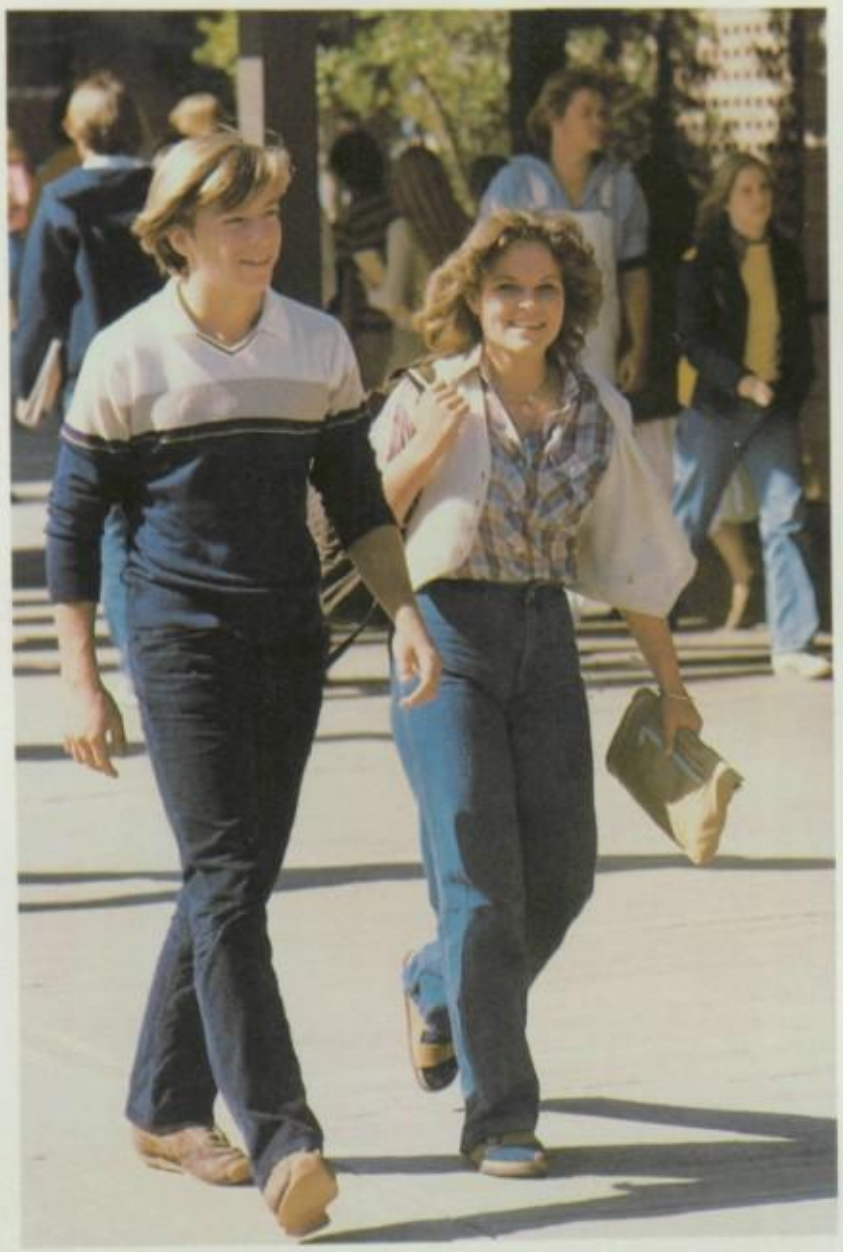
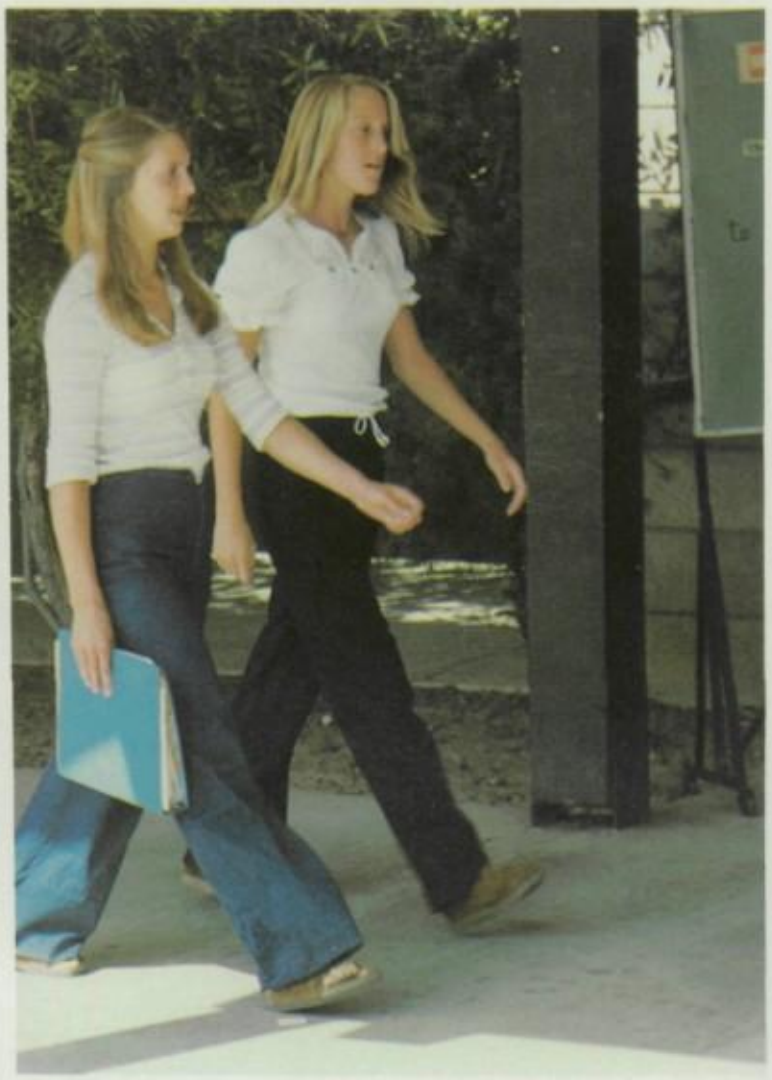
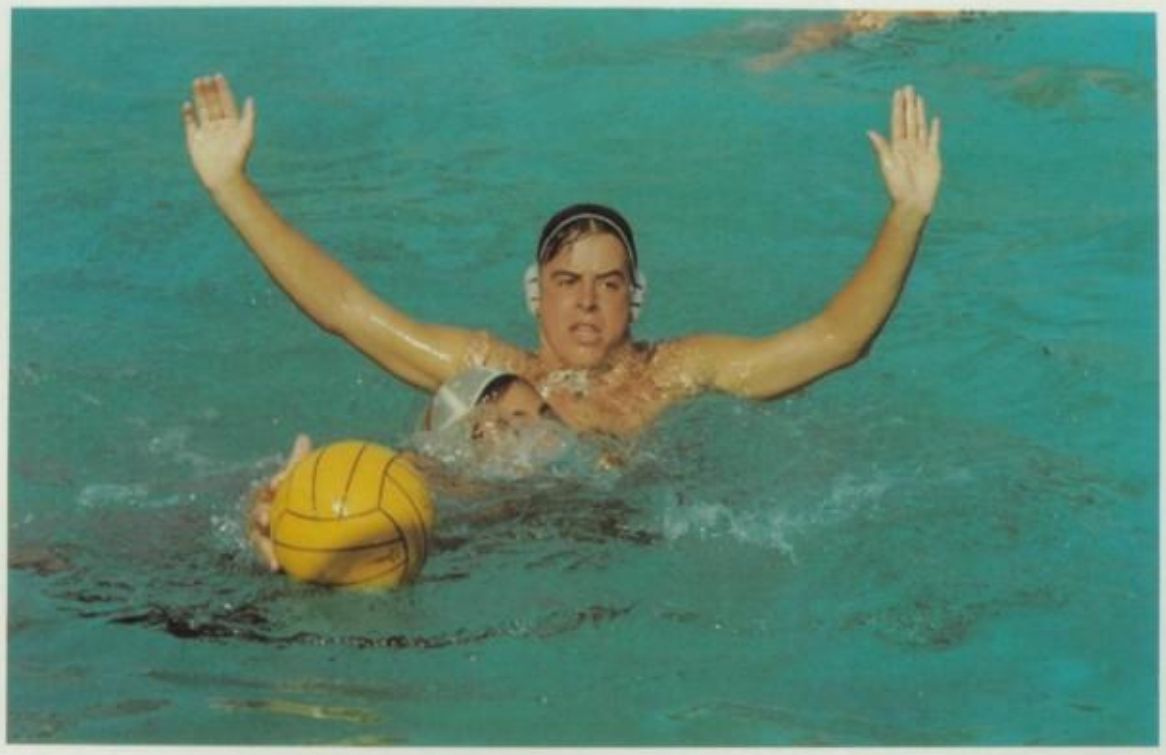
"Sayonara," José!

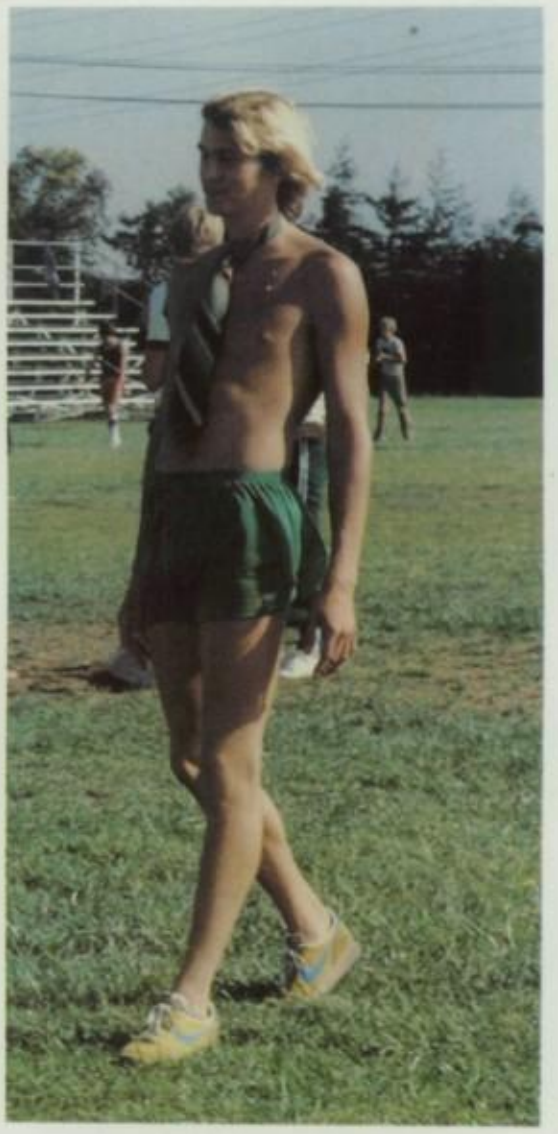




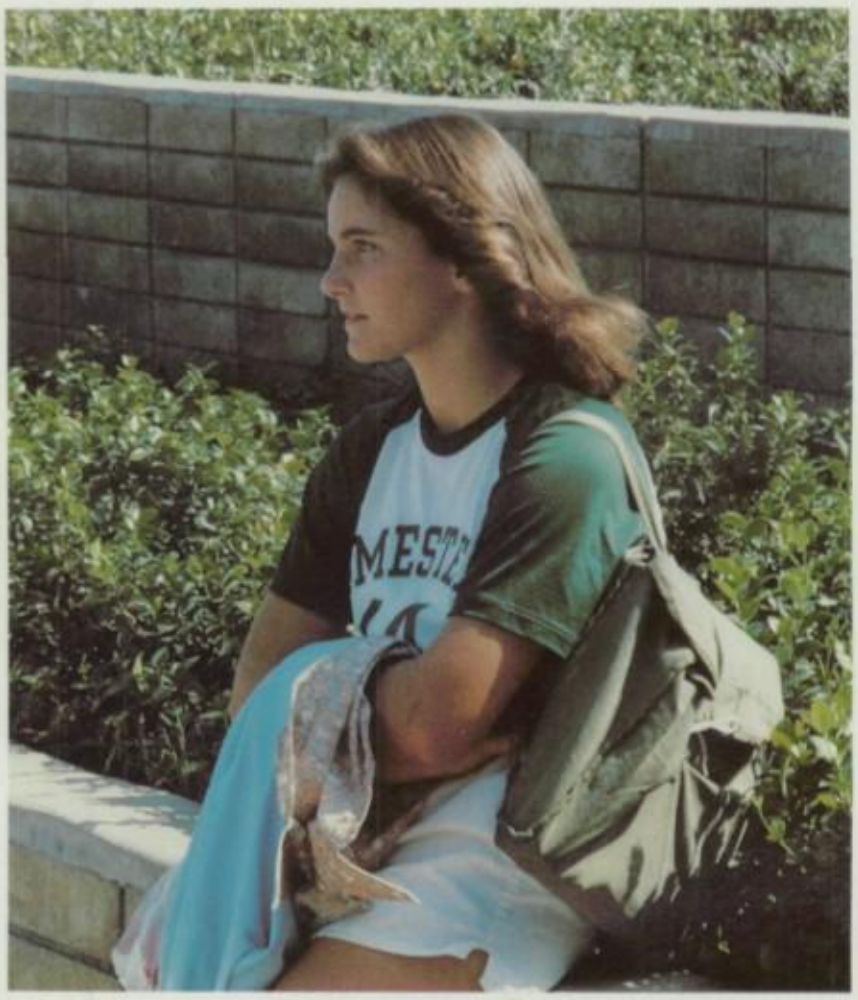
The day was coming to a close at last,

and all my thoughts were stranded in the past.





The fun and games and laughs were there,



but also the troubles and hardships we had to bear.

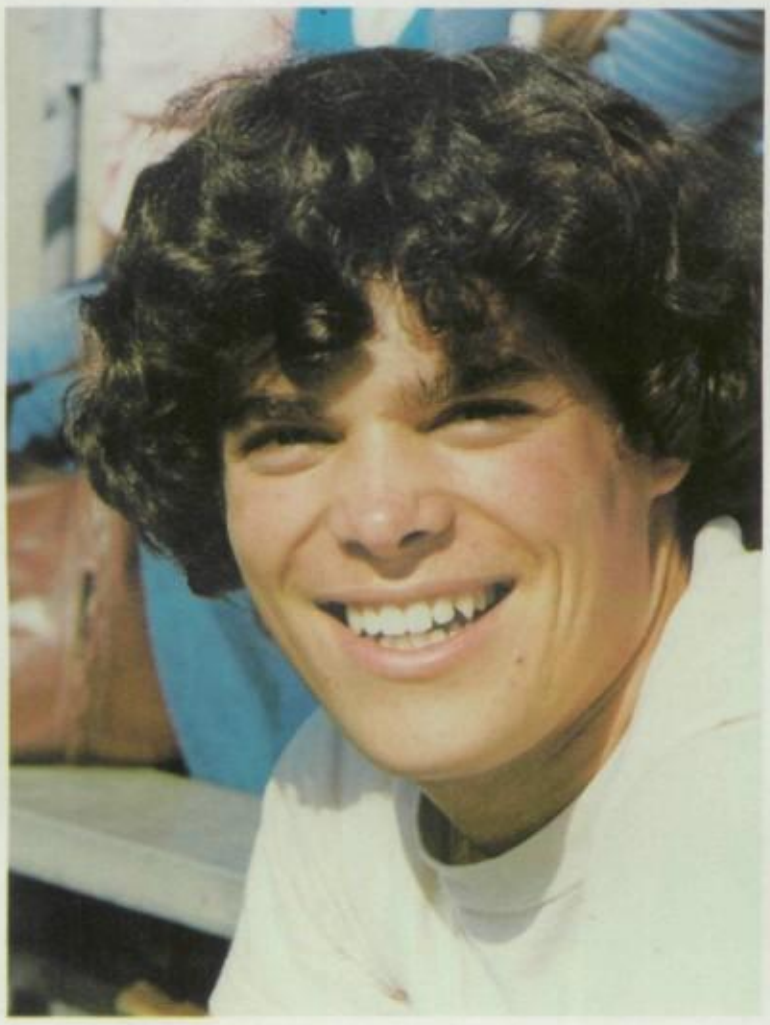
Let us remember these things once again

for there is no way at all to return back then.

Into the future and the rising sun

is where we must turn unless we are done.

Now everybody the time is at hand



when we shall be the strength of the land.

A shot at stardom!

This year the Junior Class sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance Oct. 13. The band was "HUSH". Over 200 couples attended—dress ranging from Sir Francis Drake to graceful ballerinas.

Just wait 'til midnight.

Sheer Energy!

Yes my son, 3 wishes.

Oh, those sweet and innocent days!

I wish I could make you mine.

HUSH!

C'mon guys, we're just clownin' around.

A venture to the big city.

Powder Puff punts off!

In a dazzling display of brawn and beauty, the senior girls defeated the junior girls by a score of 12-6 in the annual Powder Puff football game. Senior and junior Powder Puffettes kept the crowd entertained with their amusing sideline antics.

The Salzburg Stierwascher Singers

Hailing from Austria and performing songs and dances well over 100-years old, the Salzburg Stierwascher Singers entertained teh studen' body during the lunch hour rally September 14. Group leader Josef Holtzleitner has directed the performing troupe throughout its twenty-year history of commemorating Old Austria.

The Singers take their name from a past confrontation involving a castle standing high above the city of Salzburg. The story tells of an enemy's siege of the castle with the idea of starving its inhabitants out.

However, those within the fortress deceived their enemies by alternately coloring the hide of the one cow there in order to give their attackers the impression that they had a large supply of ready food because of their "herd" of cattle inside. In actuality, the castle's populace was surviving on only the remaining water in their well. The ruse worked and the would-be captors soon left.

The Singers appeared at Homestead as part of their United States tour, courtesy of history teacher Dick Fulcher.

School spirit is an essential part of any student body. The Songleaders of the '79-'80 year, by performing their unique dance routines at all school rallies and games, helped the cheerleaders entertain the audiences as well as build spirit. The three juniors and five seniors of this group spent endless hours perfecting their difficult routines.

Letter Persons

This year's Lettergirls proved to be a vital part of the Homestead spirit team. Led by senior Tina Hahn, the Lettergirls presented such wild rally routines as, "We are the Lettergirls," and helped the Cheerleaders and Equestriettes rouse the "rowdy" crowds at sports events as well.

Spirit Leads to Victory

Homestead Cheerleaders urged the green-and-white Mustang players on to successful seasons this year at all football and basketball events. Performing their intricate routines at rallies as well, the '79-'80 cheerleading squad proved themselves more than equal to the task of supporting school spirit.

Spirit week got off to a slow start this year with the freshmen toilet-papering the quad. Sophomores took the theme of King Tut. As the week proceeded, class came to Homestead with the juniors dressing formally. Seniors won their fourth consecutive year with their theme of looking back at the 70's with music, the Bicentennial, Arabs and protests.

Strange Bedfellows, this year's fall play, presented an exciting comedy dealing with the women's suffrage movement of the late 1890's. The play challenged the actors and actresses to find ways to make their portrayals laughable as well as believable. Audience response to the play proved cast efforts most successful.

Folk/Rock comes to Homestead

On Friday, Dec. 7, folksinger Marty Kane made an all-day appearance in the HHS auditorium. Students were enthralled with his personable performance of such popular folksongs as "Dust in the Wind" and "Good Die Young" as well as a few of Marty's unpublished favorites, notabley "Your Eyes."

New York born and bred, Marty particularly enjoyed performing numbers of other New Yorkers. He sang several Paul Simon hits as well as "Taxi" by Harry Chapin. Expected attendance (advance sign-ups through English classes) was 700. By third period, however, the word had spread and the auditorium was packed each period of the rest of the day.

Marty appeared again, in the quad, on Friday, Jan 18, as well as in concert on Jan. 30. When asked about how he felt about his reception at HHS, Marty said, "There's nothing like a Homstead High."

Christmas Ball

With Santa and his elves assisting, the Senior class sponsored a successful and merry night featuring the band Ivory Tower for the Christmas Ball. The dance took place at the Holiday Inn in Palo Alto on a brisk December 18 evening. Such stuff as dreams are made on

Lovers, Fools, Crowns, Dreams and Farewells were the subjects for this year's spring play, "Such Stuff As Dreams Are Made On," a collage of William Shakespeare's most famous works. Despite cast and crew fears of playing to small audiences (due to the nature of the production) the three night offering was well-received by the entire student body, and the company played to near-full houses each night. Some of the more well-known scenes were taken from plays such as "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Hamlet," "Othello" and "Romeo and Juliet."

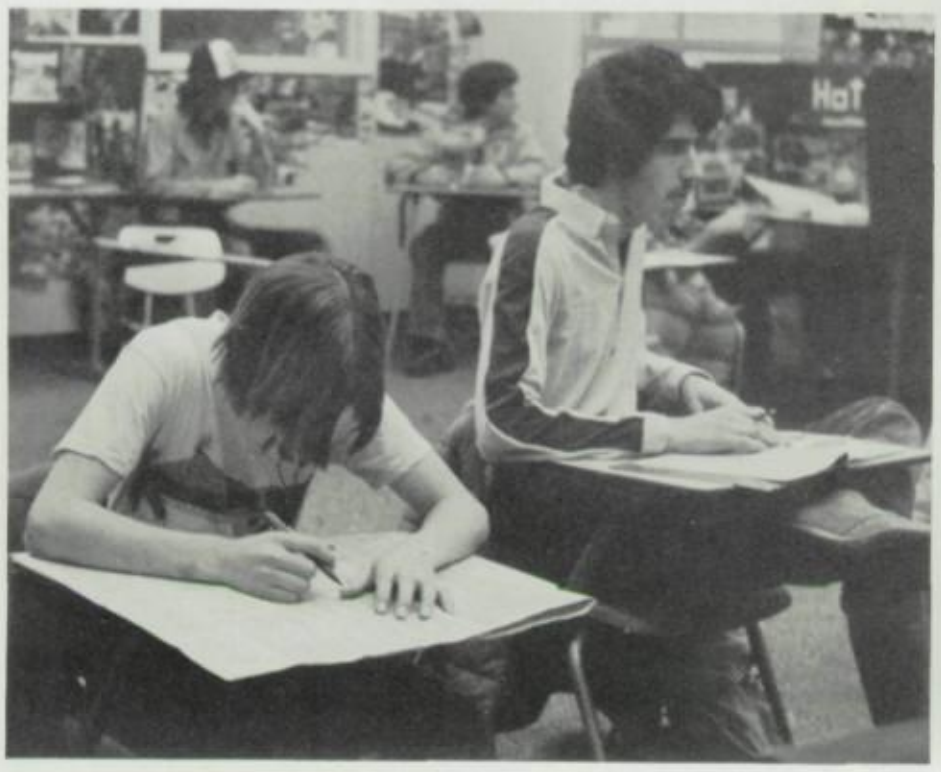
DISC

Directed Independent Study Center (DISC) is designed for students who cannot get along in "normal" classes. Students who fall behind usually lose their credits, but DISC allows these people to catch up on their credits. The teachers award the students credits for the amount of work they have done. Many of the students would not be able to graduate if they were not in DISC.



ESL

English as a Second Language (ESL) is a class of Homestead non-English speaking students. It was started by Social Studies teacher Ken Crump and English teacher Charles Pelton in 1976. Students are trying to learn the American way of life. They celebrate "American" holidays such as Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays and the Fourth of July.

Students do not try to be bilingual; they are taught by "total immersion" into the English language. They help each other out in learning English.

DAGMAR BECKER

Hi! Homestead students and teachers. I've never been in I've met alot of nice and interesting people. They were all very kind and alot of fun. I enjoy talking to them because they have different ideas than Germans. They all were interested in my country and showed me around. I especially enjoyed the gorgeous beaches and mountains and because I'm an animal lover, all the animals we can see only in zoos in Germany. Thank you all at Homestead and Family Hopper for making my stay so great. I love you all.

Being an exchange student at Homestead this year has affected me in many different ways. I have had an excellent opportunity to experience "the American way of living." In addition to Americans, I've met many people of different nationalities and backgrounds. This has helped me to have a better understanding of the world

There are many differences between the U.S. and Sweden; however, there are also many similarities. Things that are very natural to Americans were, before I adjusted myself to them, weird and strange. Peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and French toast with syrup for example, made me feel sick.

Sometimes students have asked me things like: "Do you have cars in Sweden?" or "Do you eat chicken in Sweden?" At moments like that, I've been happy to set right the worst misunderstandings.

I've benefited a lot from this year, and I hope that at least some students have learned that Sweden is not just ice, snow and polar bears running around in the streets.

My name is Tom Polonyi and I am from Cologne, Germany. Although school in the U.S. is taught in a different language than in Germany, I got along pretty well. Joining swimming and water polo teams found me a lot of friends and I had great fun in my free time. Being in a great school with great teachers, I learned alot.

As an Exchange Student, the year is ending for me and my feelings turn sad. You have given me a great time during a very important part of my life. Thank you.

This year's Pegasus staff began the year inexperienced yet full of ideas for the 1980 yearbook. Comprised of one sophomore, six juniors and ten seniors, the staff met and discussed their plans two weeks before even beginning to put together the book's first pages. The result is more written copy, a stunning cover, more color photos in the opening section, and the first full-color senior photo to be included in any Homestead yearbook.

This year's freshmen played their role typically well. They brought to Homestead for their spirit day a "western theme," and they nicely toilet-papered the school. For the Homecoming game they presented as their float a Goodyear blimp, symbolizing ten "Goodyears".

The 1979-80 yearbook staff wishes to extend its thanks to Carmel-based artist K. Chin for the use of "Beyond the Rainbow," the inspiring and majestic painting gracing the cover of this year's Pegasus.

Special thanks also go to Sophomore Neil Heather for his artwork on division pages throughout the Pegasus.

1979-80 Pegasus Staff

The Chariot

Because I could not stop for Death
He kindly stopped for me.
The carriage held but just ourselves
And immortality.

We slowly drove. He knew no haste.
And I had put away
My labor and my leisure too
For his civility.

We passed the school where children strove
At recess in the ring.
We passed the fields of grazing grain:
We passed the setting sun—

Or rather, he passed us.
The dews drew quivering and chill.
For only gossamer my gown.
My tippet only tulle.

We paused before a house that seemed
A swelling of the ground.
The roof was scarcely visible.
The cornice in the ground.

Since then 'tis centuries, and yet
Feels shorter than the day
I first surmised the horses' heads
Were toward Eternity.

Martin,

Hello. It's been a blast getting to know you (if you know what I mean) and I'm glad I met you.

No, seriously I haven't known you for very long but I know you're very nice and very good looking. I hope I won't to be known for a long time.

Keep in touch and take care of yourself.

Skiing was really a blast. You are so radical, I had a lot of trouble keeping up with you. Have a fantastic year next year as a big senior. Just kick back and take it easy. Live life to its fullest (something I'm sure you'll have no trouble with). Take it easy and see you around. Give me a call sometime (736-2755)

Love,
